Subject: Update on the 2022 EPC Meeting in Kyiv (virtual)

To: info@europeanpancreaticclub.org

To all colleagues dedicated to the study of the pancreas and beyond,

Stunned, deeply saddened, and with utmost concern we continue to watch Russia's war against Ukraine unfold. As medical doctors, scientists, and humans we strongly condemn this violent invasion and any further act of war.

Our thoughts and empathy are with our Ukrainian EPC President Professor Natalya Gubergrits, our Ukrainian colleagues, families, friends, and all Ukrainian citizens who are suffering unimaginably in the current situation.

We and others call for support in this humanitarian crisis: medical care and further medical supplies for the Ukraine are urgently needed. The EPC has made a donation to the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and encourages everyone to consider making a donation.

We also strongly encourage every Pancreas researcher and clinician to attend the annual 2022 EPC meeting, which will be held virtually in Kyiv. Let's make this meeting the biggest success ever and thereby send a clear message to our Ukrainian friends and colleagues, and to the world.

Peace is the highest good we have and all of us have a responsibility to preserve it.
